Supporting Emotional Needs of the Gifted

An evening with Amy Price

Laughter, Tears & Two Extra-Strength Aspirin: A Prescription for Parents and Teachers of Gifted Children

They're not born with an instruction manual. They are intense, different, and not always easy to understand. For both parents and educators, doing right by gifted kids is challenging and often stressful. But it can also be satisfying, exciting and even funny. With information about traits of gifted kids, an understanding of communication do's and don'ts, and a healthy dose of humor, parents and educators can form healthy relationships for the benefit of their gifted children – without the headaches!

Highlights

- ◆ 6:00-7:00 special networking event for local gifted education leaders & advocates
- ◆ 7:00-7:15 doors open to the general public - mix and mingle
- ◆ 7:15-8:15 Amy Price presents
- ◆ 8:15-8:45 update from local advocates on gifted education in the South Sound.
